

Youth, 18, hit-run victim; GC man held

Eighteen-year-old Eric Michael Morgan of Rural Route Two, Box 1015, Granite City, was injured fatally when his bicycle was struck by a speeding auto on Maryville Road near Route 203 (Nameoki Road) at 1 a.m. Tuesday.

Larry G. Webb, 38, of Rural Route One, near Pontoon Beach, has been charged with reckless homicide for the incident and the possibility of additional charges is to be considered by a Madison County grand jury in the near future, officials indicated.

A hostage who was in the auto with Webb when the youth was struck, Lawrence E. Cormican, 38, Summers, Ark., told Madison County sheriff's deputies that Webb forced him at gunpoint into the car and struck him several times while they were driving.

Cormican, a truck driver, said his truck was being repaired near the 15-Acres Tavern on West Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell and he was in the tavern where he met Webb and the two got into a dice game.

Later, Webb asked him to go outside to discuss someone cheating them in the game. Cormican alleged Webb opened the trunk of his (Webb's) auto, took a gun out and pointed it at Cormican, ordering him to get into the car.

The hostage said the driver drove from one side of the road to the other, as though intoxicated, going off the road several times and then veering back.

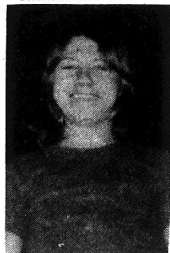

He held the pistol to Cormican's temple and cocked the hammer. Cormican related he said, "I'm a married man with four kids. I don't know you from Adam. I wish you would let me go."

The driver then slapped him in the face and again cocked the hammer of the gun at Cormican's temple. He then hit Cormican's nose with the gun, deputies were told.

It is believed the auto went east on West Chain of Rocks Road, then turned right onto Maryville Road to near Route 203 where the car struck Eric Morgan's bicycle, fatally injuring him.

Cormican said he told the driver, "You just hit somebody on a bicycle, or something," but the car continued from the scene.

It is believed the auto turned east on Pontoon Road and then south on Route 111 where the driver fired two shots at a passing motorcyclist near Fairmount City, missing him, Cormican related.

The auto then was seen by Collinsville police on Route 40 near Route 157 who stopped it and arrested Webb. Cormican marks and a puncture on his left forearm and a cut on his lower lip. He had pain in the chest from hitting the steering wheel on impact. His condition is satisfactory.

A light rain was falling at the time of the accident and the pavement on Madison Avenue was noticeably slick.

Nonn said he attempted to stop, but couldn't, and skidded into Miss Bezan's auto.

Many motorists enroute to work made detours around the scene, where traffic was snarled during the rescue operation.

arrived quickly from the nearby main fire station. The second driver, Joseph R. Nonn, 19, of 2060 Fourteenth St., also sustained injuries. Both drivers were admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Workbound traffic on Madison Avenue was tied up while the rescue was in progress.

Crash snarls traffic on Madison; two hurt

An unconscious young woman was trapped inside her wrecked automobile at 7:50 a.m. Wednesday, after her car was struck by another vehicle in front of the Granite City Post Office, 2350 Madison Ave.

Cut out of a 1973 Mustang by rescue workers was Nancy A. Bezan, 19, of 3145 Myrtle Ave., who was leaving the post office parking area when her car was hit broadside by a northbound vehicle operated by Joseph R. Nonn, 19, of 2060 Fourteenth St.

Emergency Medical Technicians and firefighters from the main Granite City Fire Station, adjacent to the post office, quickly arrived at the accident scene.

Miss Bezan was unconscious inside the auto and about 15 minutes elapsed before the rescuers could extricate her from the wreckage.

She suffered a laceration to the forehead, multiple abrasions and pain in the neck area. She was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital and underwent a series of X-rays. Results of the X-rays are not immediately available.

Nonn, also admitted to the hospital, sustained multiple contusions and cuts, serrape forearm and a cut on his lower lip. He had pain in the chest from hitting the steering wheel on impact. His condition is satisfactory.

A light rain was falling at the time of the accident and the pavement on Madison Avenue was noticeably slick.

Nonn said he attempted to stop, but couldn't, and skidded into Miss Bezan's auto.

Many motorists enroute to work made detours around the scene, where traffic was snarled during the rescue operation.

TAKE AIR CONDITIONERS

Two external central air conditioning units were taken from homes in Madison County near Granite City, it was reported Tuesday. A $500 unit was taken from beside the mobile home of Larry Nickels, 195 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, and a $220 unit was removed from the exterior of the home of Ronald Dunnivant, 4501 Vine St.

Thieves get jewelry

Gold jewelry and a pistol were among the loot taken from the home of Mrs. Satanic Bogosian, 3133 Edgewood Ave., in a burglary occurring between 7 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. Tuesday, in which items valued in excess of $1,000 were stolen.

The burglar removed a screen from a rear window to gain entry into the dwelling's master bedroom, then exited through a garage door.

Four pillowcases were stripped from the beds and presumably used to carry away the stolen goods, police speculated. All three bedrooms were ransacked.

Hens listed as stolen, so far, include a 14-carat gold thick chain, inset with three diamonds, valued at $900; four 14-carat gold bracelets worth $300, a ladies silver bracelet watch, $150; wood jewelry box, $40; turntable, $200; 40 half-dollar silver coins, $20; a 38 caliber police special pistol, circa 1912, no value listed.

Also a handmade 14-carat gold necklace worth $95, an opal and garnet ring, $73, clock radio, $70, and a large assortment of costume jewelry, no value listed.

GC budget trimmed

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A tentative Granite City budget totaling $7,517,889 was put on first reading by the Granite City Council at a special meeting Tuesday night and will be considered for amendments and passage July 18.

The proposed budget is $68,220 lower than the $7,586,109 adopted for the city's 1977-78 fiscal year, which ended April 30. It does not include expenditures from revenue sharing which are in a separate budget to be studied at the July 18 meeting.

At Tuesday night's meeting, Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the city's finance committee, presented a tentative $7,480,889 budget, which was about $105,000 lower than the previous fiscal year, but the aldermen pointed out several "oversights" and voted to increase the document by $37,000 to the $7,517,889 total.

While the meeting had been called only to begin preparation of a new budget, Mayor Paul Schuler told the aldermen he had reviewed the tentative document, felt it is "a good budget" and urged them to put it on first reading.

"Any time you can come in with a budget that is $105,000 lower than the previous year, you have a good budget. It looks great. You can make the few needed changes next week or always can amend it later," the mayor commented.

However, the aldermen decided to make several "necessary" additions to the document prior to putting it on first reading. The sanitation department and sewage treatment budgets were increased $23,000, the police budget was increased $12,580, and the city engineer's appropriation was upped by $1,420.

It was noted the proposed budget, even after the amendments were made, fails to make provisions for a $60,000 parking lot behind the new police building, which is under construction on Madison Avenue, or for about $42,000 worth of furniture for that building.

The aldermen will have to decide Tuesday night whether those are expenses which can "wait one year," or whether the funding can be found in either the city or the federal revenue sharing budget.

Alderman Clyde "Bus" Boyd suggested the $60,000 for the parking lot might be found in the street department budget, which, he said, "appears to have some excess."

Bowler said the revenue sharing fund is already strained by requests, which will have to be trimmed about $167,000 to match the estimated $600,000 the city will receive from the federal government during the fiscal year.

He said revenue sharing requests now total $767,706 and stated, "The aldermen will have to assign some priority to these requests next week."

Some revenue sharing requests, such as a $35,000 grader for the street department and $6,750 for a canopy over the entrance to a new police building, can be cut without major sacrifices, it is believed.

Tuesday night's additions to the budget began as Alderman Ron Coleman noted the city already had purchased a $3,000 mosquito fogger from the 1978.

$10 million paid in discrimination cases

The value of monetary compensation found due to 1,943 individuals in the 40-65 age group covered by the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, who had been discriminated against, reached a record $10 million in calendar 1977. Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall has told Congress in his annual report on administration of the Act.

In addition, Marshall said, the second highest level of income actually restored to persons who suffered discrimination was attained in 1977 with $2.7 million being paid to 744 older workers and job applicants.

Many workers benefited from additional job opportunities, reemployment, on-the-job gains such as improved future wages and pension benefits, as well as the receipt of back wages and damages, it was reported.

The 1967 Act prohibits discrimination because of age in hiring, job retention, compensation, and other terms, conditions, or privileges of employment. It initially applied to 15 million of the 36 million members of the civilian labor force aged 40 to 65 but was expanded by the 1974 amendments to include 70 percent of the workforce in that age group, or 26 million out of 37 million in 1977.

Enforcement including investigative and conciliation activities are the responsibility of the Employment Standards

Administration's Wage and Hour Division.

Marshall's report listed some of the achievements in the decade since the Act became effective in June 1967:

A much greater awareness on the part of employers, employees, and applicants of their rights and responsibilities under the Act.

A vast reduction in the most obvious types of prohibited practices, particularly illegal advertising.

Evolution of effective administration and enforcement mechanisms in a new field of antidiscrimination law.

The handling of an increased enforcement workload, for example.

—the number of complaints received by the Department of Labor has increased from 1,000 in fiscal year 1969 to over 5,000 during fiscal years 1976 and 1977.

—from fiscal year 1969 through fiscal year 1977, enforcement activity disclosed nearly 11,000 employees and applicants for employment who have been discriminated against and who were due over $37 million in damages, and —income restored to individuals exceeded $11 million.

Precedent-setting interpretations developing from over 400 court actions instituted by the Department of Labor between June 1968 and the end of 1977, out of a potential of 58 jurisdictions covered by the federal statute.

In a covering statement, Secretary Marshall said, "While discrimination against older workers has not been eliminated during the past 10 years, much progress has recently been made in achieving the Act's intent. Government-sponsored research has contributed to eradicating myths about older workers. It has been established, for example, that older workers have better job attendance records and their productivity and learning ability compare favorably with that of younger workers."

Marshall said two events which took place in early 1978 deserve mention. One is President Carter's equal employment opportunity reorganization plan (Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1978), which will shift responsibility for enforcing the Age Discrimination in Employment Act in non-Federal employment from the Department of Labor to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) on October 1, 1978.

This action, together with others submitted in the plan, the President has said, "consolidates federal equal employment opportunity activities and lays, for the first time, the foundation of a unified, coherent Federal structure to combat job discrimination in all its forms."

Second, Marshall said, are amendments to the ADEA signed by President Carter April 6, 1978. The President has said this bill "provides fairness and equity in protecting our older citizens from discrimination in employment."

Marshall told the Congress, "The amendments to the ADEA will benefit older workers by increasing their employment opportunities, eliminating mandatory retirement before age 70 in most non-federal employment and by almost completely eliminating mandatory retirement in the federal sector."

Man leaves check, takes groceries

A 26-year-old Granite City man and a 65-year-old woman walked out of Farm Fresh Super Market, 2020 N. Nameoki Road, with a sackful of groceries at 1:10 p.m. Monday, while the clerk was checking the validity of a check with a bank.

The bank gave police the address of the depositor and a license number, obtained from a vehicle leaving the store, was registered to someone at the same address.

Police located the auto at a residence in the Kirkpatrick Homes and took the man to police headquarters for questioning.

Officers also met Bud Clay, manager of the store, at the residence later, and he retrieved the groceries.

County checks $11,000 claim for Maeras

A claim for $11,000 sought by Madison County Sheriff John Kravynak from the county for a time agreement will likely be a topic of disagreement during the county board's regular meeting July 13.

County Auditor John Kravynak said Maeras submitted the claim for an $11,000 reimbursement marked only "in pursuant to an agreement concerning rent."

Kravynak said he knows of no rent agreement and believes Maeras is attempting to recoup $4,500 in taxes he had to pay the Internal Revenue Service on rent the county paid after Maeras was moved from quarters in the county jail to a house in Edwardsville.

"We expected a claim for $4,500, but I have no idea why the sheriff submitted one for $11,000. I have referred it to the county's finance committee and suggested they refer it to the state's attorney's office," Kravynak said.

Maeras was among officials at a county convention in Atlanta, Ga., and has not explained the reason for the claim.

Legislation granting state troopers annual salary hikes of from $900 to $5,576 was signed Tuesday by Gov. James R. Thompson. The increases would bring the average salary of a newly hired state trooper to $13,800, a $900 raise, and yearly salary of a lieutenant colonel up from $36,100 to $37,836. Hanging from 11 percent to 24 percent, depending on rank, the increases will cost the state $4.1 million this year, according to Thompson who says they are not excessive and are meant "to catch the state police up with the rest of state employees."

A resolution from the Illinois Energy Resources Commission, which encourages increased use of Illinois coal, has been passed by the Illinois General Assembly. Illinois has the largest reserve of bituminous coal in the United States.

No progress was reported Wednesday in two nationwide strikes that have affected more than 1,100 workers in the bi-state St. Louis area. The International Brotherhood of Railway Clerks of Norfolk and Western has about 1,000 members in this area on strike. More than 100 members of the Communication Workers of America, Local 636, St. Louis, entered the third day of their strike Wednesday against American Telephone & Telegraph.

Newly approved appropriations for Southern Illinois University at Carbondale will provide $4,372,000 for salary increases in the budget year that started July 1, according to bills signed this week by Gov. James R. Thompson. Faculty staff pay raises will average eight percent, plus an additional two percent for lower paid civil service workers in range classifications.

Madison County residents should receive real estate property tax bills in the mail by the end of this week. Mailing of the bills has been delayed this year because the forms on which they are printed were not delivered by the supplier until last week.

About 1,000 postal workers rallied at Postal Service headquarters in Washington, D.C. Wednesday to protest a lack of progress in negotiations for a new labor agreement. A three-year agreement will expire July 20.

Benzene production in the coke oven byproduct area of Granite City Steel poses no hazard to employees or the public, a company spokesman said this morning.

He said reports of workers being exposed to breathing benzene at Granite City Steel are false, since all the benzene is kept sealed from the air.

"It's all in pipes, pumps or tanks," the spokesman said, noting that benzene is never exposed to the outside air at Granite City Steel.

Benzene is removed from a light oil which is contained in coke oven gas captured at the ovens. The coke oven gas itself does not contain benzene, which has to be manufactured from the light oil in the gas, it was explained.

"The production of benzene is a routine thing and has been part of the process here since the coke ovens were installed," he added.

About 15 persons are employed per shift in the area where benzene is produced, so only about 50 to 60 employees have been involved in its production in the past few years.

Monitoring for benzene in the air is conducted "at intervals," but have not shown significant amounts of the chemical to pose any danger, he said. The spokesman also said the results of the monitoring have not been posted for employees, since no hazard was indicated.

"I know of no time when there was a leak, blowout or incident in which a Granite City Steel employee was exposed to a large amount of benzene," he summarized.

Six arrests in Lake Carlyle disturbance

Four members of a motorcycle gang involved in a fight and disturbance on July 4 which involved the family of Rev. Lawrence Shipp of Madison were released on bond, it was reported Wednesday.

A fifth member of the group, Bonnie Mack, is in the Carlyle hospital suffering neck injuries. A warrant has been issued charging her with one count of aggravated battery. A $5,000 bond has been set.

The five were among a group of motorcycle riders who allegedly beat members of the family of Rev. Shipp of 1122 College St., Venice while on a picnic at the McNair Campground at Carlyle Lake near Carlyle, Ill.

Mrs. Dorcree Gardner, a daughter of Rev. Shipp, was released after four days in Firming Hospital where she was treated for injuries to her right eye and back.

Roger Hayes, a park ranger, said the trouble began about 4:30 p.m. with both groups calling each other obscene names. The fight first erupted between four women.

The gang which calls itself the "Grim Reapers," had three groups camping in the park and camp during the holiday. When trouble broke out,

Three injured in crash

Three people were injured at 11:25 p.m. Tuesday in an auto accident on Nameki Road at North Street. All were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Police said the collision happened when Hudson's westbound van was turning south on to North Street. Manion's van was traveling in the opposite direction on Nameki Road.

The impact spun Hudson's car around. The vehicle crossed the curb, the eastbound lanes and the median, stopping across both westbound lanes.

Taken to the hospital by City

Ambulance, Manion suffered cuts to the right side of his head and left leg and abrasions to both knees and chest. He was admitted.

Mrs. Alice Hudson, 52, of 1800 Primrose Ave., a passenger, sustained cuts to the forearms and face.

79 sanitation fund, but no provision had been made in the budget for that purpose.
After that appropriation was added, Coleman noted the city has signed a contract with the Sverdrup and Parcel consulting engineering firm to conduct a study of the design of the new secondary sewage treatment plant with the funds to come from the new sanitation budget. Bowler said that contract had apparently been "overlooked" by the finance committee in preparing the budget and the aldermen voted to add $20,000 to the sewage treatment department budget.

Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer

then noted the committee had trimmed his budget requests, which already were "without fat." He said some of the cuts could not be complied with. He said the city is under contract with the state to rent the Law Enforcement Administration Data Systems (LEADS) teletype for $465 a month through 1980 and the $3,000 budgeted for the police teletype is $50 less than required by the contract.

He also said that the $30,000 appropriated for gasoline, motor oil and grease for police vehicles is unrealistic with the rising price of gasoline and he requested the appropriation be increased to $40,000.

He also said the $10,000 appropriated for police overtime will probably be exceeded as officers are called out for parades, emergencies, security for visiting dignitaries and for court appearances. He noted that when the elderly Kube couple was killed on Iowa Street in March of 1976, officers and detectives accumulated more than $6,000 worth of overtime in that one investigation.

He noted the provision for overtime had been trimmed from $26,000 two years ago to $12,000 last year and did not feel it could be reduced further.

The aldermen voted to add $2,000 for overtime, $10,000 for gasoline and $500 for the alderman and the assistant city engineer. He contended all of the increases were necessary since the overpass will greatly increase the mileage and expenses of the engineering staff. He also requested that two deleted categories in the tentative budgets be kept open with LEADS teletype to the police budget, increasing it from $99,250 to $111,800.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer then objected to cuts made in his budget requests and predicted that his department would exceed its budget in several areas, particularly when construction of the 10th Street overpass between West Granite City and the downtown area begins.

He requested budget increases in five areas, including a $700 increase in the equipment fund, a $600 increase in the mileage for manpower employees, and a $800 increase in automobile expenses for himself and the assistant city engineer. He contended all of the increases were necessary since the overpass will greatly increase the mileage and expenses of the engineering staff. He also requested that two deleted categories in the tentative budgets be kept open with small appropriations, so additional funds could be added to the categories, if necessary. The aldermen agreed to appropriate $10 for part-time help and $10 for gasoline, oil and grease, to keep those other appropriation items in the budget. They then agreed to all of Brewer's requested increases, upping the budget of the city engineering department from $90,000 to $151,000.

The tentative budget appropriations, with last year's appropriations in parentheses, are:

General government — Legislative $145,834 ($148,486); executive $46,980 ($45,392); treasurer $55,444 ($49,066); legal expenses $50,779 ($44,297). The total general government appropriation is $297,039 ($287,241).
Pumping station $5,000 ($35,000); city hall $55,325 ($61,590); inspection department $68,603 ($66,500); election fund $12,500 (same); humane department $43,313 ($38,323); contingency fund $15,000 (same); and city planning $8,566 ($9,044).

Air pollution control $74,485 ($68,721); Neighborhood Youth Corps $500 ($1,000); CETA (Manpower) $12,000 (same); senior citizen aid program $8,900 (same); student intern grant $20,000 ($10,000).
General obligation bond issue (retire Particular Area Three sewer bonds) $150,123 ($154,873); fire hydrant rental $19,000 (same); street lights $120,000 (same).

Police department $911,830 ($1,046,821); fire department $805,440 ($819,861); fire department ambulance division $159,094 ($148,650); street department $732,570 ($825,353); arterial maintenance $203,796 (not a separate category last year).
Interest and judgments $100,000 (same); municipal retirement $220,000 (same); sanitation $415,500 ($418,112); maintenance of sewers $76,276 ($92,500); civil defense $25,980 ($21,380); school crossing guards $35,200 ($38,700).

Firemen's pension fund $300,000 (same); police pension fund $300,000 (same); auditing of books $5,000 (same); public library $415,589 ($324,500); workmen's compensation insurance $100,000 ($72,247).

Secondary sewage treatment plant $1,010,000 ($784,814); parking meters $95,157 ($116,138); insurance contingency $150,000 (same); Community Development $463,088 (same); reimbursable insurance contingency for retired employees $10,000 (same); and public liability insurance $16,000 (same).
After reviewing the budget, Schuler noted that the finance committee, department heads and aldermen had succeeded in reducing the budget from the previous year without cutting the appropriation for the library, sanitation and other services.

"It's remarkable. In these days of Proposition 13 (a California referendum limiting property taxes), the name of the game is cut the taxes," the mayor said.

Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman estimated the city tax rate will remain about the same as last year, or may decrease slightly, if the new budget is adopted in its current form.

Arrested on license charge
Robert C. Kniezt, 22, of St. Louis, reportedly soliciting money and selling religious type books in Schuler's parking area at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, was arrested and charged with soliciting without a license.

Another member of the same group had been warned earlier and advised to get a license. Similar warnings had been given to others in the past, he said.

Kniezt was released at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday on payment of $35 cash bond.

Crime in Madison declines

The monthly crime comparison report submitted to the Madison City Council Tuesday night showed a 21 percent decrease in crime for the month of June 1978, compared to June 1977.

This is the seventh month with a crime reduction in 1978 over 1977: January 1978, 37 percent reduction over January 1977; February 25 percent; March 37 percent; April 23 percent; and May 52 percent. Of the major crimes reported only burglary was up, with 12 during June 1978 compared to 10 in June 1977.

Major crimes were down, with 1977 figures shown first followed by 1978 are: theft 15-13, auto theft 6-1, and assault and battery 7-4.

During June 1978 and June 1977 there were no criminal homicides, forcible rapes or robberies reported.

The total reported radio, telephone and logged entries for June 1978 was 2,888.

Youth charged in burglary

A stamp collection worth $500 and a tool box containing about $500 worth of electricians' tools were among items stolen during a burglary in a small house behind the home of Jim Whitsell, 2311 W. 24th St., it was discovered last week.

He said the small house, which is used for storage, was ransacked after a window in a door was broken to gain entry. A rear door which had been nailed shut was opened after the nails were pried from the wood from the inside.

Neighbors reported two boys were seen carrying items from the building. An inventory is to be prepared to determine what else was taken.

Charged with burglary was William G. Davis, 20, of 2207 Logan Ave. A 15-year-old boy also was arrested Friday and was released to his parents pending the filing of charges in juvenile court.

Davis was released on mittimus to Madison County deputies for transfer to the County Jail.

Development fund hearing July 25

The Madison County Community Development Department will hold a public hearing Tuesday, July 25, at 7 p.m. at the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville. The purpose of the meeting will be to review the performance of the Madison County Community Development Block Grant Program for the past year (1977-1978). The public is invited to attend.

What does it mean to be a member of the Madison Business Association (MBA)? An association member is concerned about the appearance of his (or her) store and the friendliness of his (or her) salespeople. Of course, many businesses are owned and operated by people who live, or grew up, in Madison. This makes for the type of hometown friendliness that is lost in the hustle and bustle of large shopping malls.

To help promote a unique business atmosphere, the MBA has supported the "Alpine Look" effort being put forth by many of the businesses. In addition, a multi-million dollar plaza is proposed for the 300 block of Madison Avenue. These projects will help Madison become one of the most attractive business districts in the area.

And MBA is there...

The MBA attempts to bring together their various businesses in a common goal: to promote and improve the business community in Madison. With this goal in mind, there is much work that needs to be done. Even with its 20 plus members, the MBA needs more members who care enough about their own business and the business climate in Madison to participate in many worthwhile projects. Anyone interested in joining MBA should call Wayne Scannell, MBA president at 452-7110.

Bakalis in area to fight tax bill veto

Michael J. Bakalis, Democratic candidate for governor, brought his drive for public support of a legislative tax refund program to the Quad-City area Tuesday in brief meetings with political leaders and an appearance in Collinsville to open a regional campaign headquarters.

Bakalis also made brief stopovers in St. Clair and Monroe counties. The candidate came to this area from Greenville and Highland which he also toured earlier in the day. Calling the property tax "The Thompson Tax," kicked off a petition drive aimed at rallying public support for HB 3279, known popularly as The Bakalis Property Tax Refund Program, at a mid-morning news conference in Chicago Monday, the first of four in his statewide flyaround.

Bakalis distributed copies of the petition and an accompanying fact sheet to reporters and said his drive would "take the case for property tax relief to those most directly affected by the program—the homeowners and renters of Illinois." "Mr. Thompson," Bakalis said, "has already indicated he will veto this bill. His stated intention to do so demonstrates once again that he is totally out of touch with the citizens of our state and their very great need for immediate relief from the onerous burden of property taxation shared statewide by homeowners and renters alike."

Other news conferences in the flyaround included stops in Rock Island, Peoria and Champaign. Bakalis' running

BURGLARY ON EDISON

Arrest two on fighting charge

A few minutes after police sent two men on their way who reportedly were causing a disturbance outside a tavern at 20th Street and Illinois Avenue at 12:10 a.m. Wednesday, officers discovered the two fighting at 20th Street and Bryan Avenue, a short distance away.

Booked at headquarters on charges of fighting were Jack L. Weldon, 21, of 2410 W. 20th St., and John R. Deer, 19, of 2203 Nevada Ave.

Report of 'conflict' probe is denied

Dewey Van Dyke, chief assistant to Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron, said Tuesday there is no truth to reports that Byron's office is conducting an investigation into the possibility there may be a conflict of interest with Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk being the ex-officio liquor-control commissioner while having part-ownership in a firm which supplies vending machines to taverns in the city.

Van Dyke said his office is conducting research on another public official involved in a similar conflict situation, but has received no official complaints on Sasyk and is not considering that situation at this time. He declined to name the other official under study.

Sasyk and his brother own Madison Amusement Co., 1423 Fifth St., which supplies juke boxes, vending machines and other machines to Madison taverns. The business has machines in about 30 taverns, Sasyk stated as a witness at a recent federal trial against three former Madison officers accused of taking bribes from taverns.

Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, suspended police Sgt. Richard Kienisch and former Madison officer Edward Gocjan were convicted of perjury and racketeering in that trial.

The state law on which the matter is based is Chapter 102, Section 3 of Illinois Revised Statutes, which states: "No person holding any office, either by election or appointment under the laws or constitution of this state, may be in any manner interested either directly or indirectly, in his own name or in the name of any other person, association, trust or corporation, in any contract or the performance of any work such officer may be called upon to act or vote."

Violation of the statute, a Class 4 felony, is punishable by removal from office.

Mayor Sasyk said, "As a liquor commissioner I never have taken into consideration if a tavern was using or going to use Madison Amusement equipment."

"In fact, since becoming Mayor I have revoked tavern licenses of three of the companies best stops and have issued several three-day suspensions. I have tried to be fair but firm."

"My brother, Nick, has been running the business for the past 25 years and we have had the business for 30 years. As mayor I have taken great care not to get involved in any business ventures where people might think I was using my position as mayor to make money."

"I feel I have done a good job for the people of Madison and I wish people would look at that. If they have any criticism of the job I have done as mayor, they should speak out."

"This matter of conflict of interest, I think, depends on which attorney one talks to. That is all I intend to say on the subject as we have a lot of good things happening in Madison for our people and that is where I intend to concentrate my efforts," Sasyk concluded.

Two men charged

Two men fighting on the sidewalk at 19th and State streets at 1:45 a.m. Wednesday were arrested and charged with fighting. Officers also dispersed a crowd of people which had gathered at the scene.

Booked on the fighting charges were Fred W. Beyrau, 25, of 3101 Jill Ave., and Fred A. Trokey, 22, of 5108 Rapp Road. Each was released a short time later on payment of $33 cash bond.

Cannabis charge
An 18-year-old youth, sitting in a car in the Granite City Trust Bank parking area, said he was waiting for two friends in a bar when questioned by officers at 1 a.m. Tuesday. Police reportedly saw an open six pack of beer under the driver's seat and, in removing the pack, found a plastic bag containing what appeared to be cannabis.

A more thorough search was made of the vehicle and an open can of beer reportedly was in the rear seat and a plastic bag of cannabis allegedly was found in the glove compartment. The 18-year-old was charged with unlawful possession of Cannabis.

Curtis C. Martin, 18, of Bridgeton, Mo., who was seated in the vehicle, was charged with unlawful possession of Cannabis.

10-YEAR TRUCE
On June 18, 1850, Francis I. of France and the Emperor Charles V signed the Treaty of Nice to suspend hostilities for 10 years.

1 Tim. 4:1 "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith..."

The Apostle Paul was a spiritual man. A large portion of the New Testament was written by him. These were not written of his own accord, but when he was moved on by God's spirit. Paul tells us the Spirit speaks in this "in the last days, some shall depart from the faith." That is, they shall depart from faith in God. It is a tragedy that God alone offers the true abundant life, and yet man will seek out his own inventions, seeking from the faith.

It is old fashioned to "love thy neighbor," "render good for evil," "turn the other cheek," but it is God's way, and it works! If you feel you have departed from the faith, why not turn around? Ask God to restore you again in His grace. Start now to do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

Broader guidelines for federal rent subsidies

As a result of discussions between the Illinois Housing Development Authority and the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, federal rent subsidies totaling $16.4 million will be made available to the state under broader guidelines than designated three months ago. IHDA Director Donald W. Hoaglund reports.

The Section 8 funds will subsidize an estimated 3,332 units of new and rehabilitated housing for low-income families, the elderly and the handicapped. "Under the revised allocation plan," Hoaglund said, "we are able to re-offer to developers the subsidized units with the same basic priorities, but with greater flexibility."

IHDA will make below-market-rate, 30- and 40-year mortgage loans to private and not-for-profit housing developers whose plans include a minimum of 20 percent

Section 8 units. Under the program, qualified tenants pay only one-fourth of their income for rent, with the federal subsidies making up the difference between that and "market" rentals.

Hoaglund noted that applications received last spring that met the initial criteria are still being evaluated, while those that did not meet the original criteria are being reconsidered in light of the broader standards.

Priority for new applications will be given to rehabilitation programs and to developments with large-family units of three or more bedrooms, but there will be no fixed quotas on such units. Some new and rehabilitated units for the elderly also will be considered.

In all cases, at least five percent of the units will be designated for the physically handicapped.

Here is how the funds will be allocated:

—Chicago, $6,973,616 for 1,371 units.
—Suburban Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry and Will Counties, $4,687,596 for 957 units.
—Downstate, $4,737,512 for 1,104 units.

Funds for downstate counties will be allocated as follows:

—Northern metropolitan counties, $224,280 for 51 units (Winnebago, Boone, Rock Island and Kankakee counties).
—Southern metropolitan counties, $2,403,632 for 580 units (Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Clinton, Henry, Tazewell, Woodford, McLean, Champaign, Menard, Sangamon and Macon counties).

—South nonmetropolitan counties, $2,109,600 for 473 units (Piatt, Douglas, Edgar, Moultrie, Christian, Coles, Montgomery, Shelby, Clark, Cumberland, Bond, Fayette, Effingham, Crawford, Jasper, Marion, Clay, Richland, talks about her "SHAKE"

Kathy Hutter

"My 'shake' is really easy to care for... so easy I don't even need a hairdryer! I wash, towel dry, and go! And my 'shake' is different because it has a perm for curl. My hair was long and straight, but now I have care-free curl and it feels great... that's important, too. I feel confident that I look my best in a 'shake'."

Kathy's hair was cut by JOHN BELL and the perm was done by JEANNIE JAMES. John and Jeannie are only two of the fine hair care professionals at the Lion's Mane. The entire staff is trained in all phases of hair design, and they are ready to assist you with any hair care problems you may have.

Loot 7 vehicles

A thief entered six vehicles in the parking area at St. Elizabeth Hospital, 21st and Iowa streets, and also a van left behind the A&P Grocery Store, Iowa and 20th streets, sometime after 2 a.m. Tuesday.

Police received all reports about 6 a.m. Tuesday. Robert Ramirez, Collinsville, who was working at the A&P store, reported a 23 channel CH radio was stolen from a 1974 GMC van, parked at the rear of the store. A vent window was forced to gain entry.

Frank Bausch, security officer at St. Elizabeth Hospital, notified police at 6:10 a.m. Tuesday, the vehicles of the following persons were entered while left on the hospital parking area:

Terry Means, 1608 Kirkpatrick Homes, had a five ton hydraulic jack valued at $38, and two speakers worth $20, stolen from his locked pickup truck.

The auto of Velita Tanner, 137 Cynthia Lane, Mitchell, was ransacked and the glove box damaged, but nothing appeared to be missing at the time of the report.

Melissa Bailey, Edwardsville, said the side door of her auto was forced open and a small tool kit was stolen.

Bob Shuply, 2457 Hodges Ave., found all doors open on his 1969 Rambler. It was not known what was missing at the time. Completely ransacked was the car of Karen Vogle, 3668 Aubrey Ave., but nothing appeared to be missing, she said. Dale Culpin, Edwardsville, said the thief ripped a hole in the vehicle's plastic rear window. He did not state if entry had been gained.

Taking classrooms to the people

By TOMMYE WALTER
What a U.S. Air Force Captain from Kansas and an engineering technician from Highland, Ill. choose to do this summer will probably affect all the summers remaining in their lives.

People with tremendous demands on their time, the two are working toward advanced degrees at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville while earning a living. They attend classes at night or on weekends at the SIUE Scott Air Force Base Resident Center.

Gary Gallier of Highland and Capt. John Blazen of Kansas City are enrolled in the University's master of business administration degree program.

Gallier, a civilian working on base as an engineering technician, hopes to advance his education to a point where he can change career fields without economic loss. Although he holds an undergraduate degree in management of business science from Park College at Kansas City, Gallier feels there is no advancement for him without more education.

After spending eight years in the U.S. Air Force and four years in the engineering field, Gallier has found that "all the jobs with greater responsibility and greater pay are held by people in the engineering field."

Since he has been employed by the military base, Gallier has considered the possibility of working toward an engineering degree but feels it is out of his reach.

"The only schools available are over in Missouri, and the out-of-state tuition is prohibitive. As for the time loss and cost of travel, I can't afford it," he said. SIUE does offer engineering courses at its Edwardsville campus, but laboratory time would not fit into Gallier's heavy schedule.

Two Illinois depts. lead in cutbacks

The Departments of Mental Health and Children and Family Services continued to lead the field in employee cutbacks, according to the May payroll statistics just released by Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis.

The Children and Family Services payroll had declined by 180 employees compared to May of 1977, while Mental Health had either dropped or not replaced some 754 positions in the last year.

There were 116,600 employees of all state agencies in May. This is a decrease of 814, or 7 percent, as compared to April. Exclusive of educational institutions, the May total was 76,812. This is an increase of 1,014, or 4 percent, from the April figure.

Changes by major groups were:

Constitutional officers and courts up 51, or 5 percent.
Code departments up 224, or 4 percent.
Major commissions up 10, or 3 percent.

Miscellaneous agencies up 56, or 2.8 percent.
Payrolls for all agencies totaled $117,430, a decrease of $4,715,431, or 3.9 percent, from April. Payroll for all agencies, except educational institutions, was $83,086,502, a decrease of $481,103, or 6 percent.

Advanced training

Airman Sandra L. Wall, daughter of Mrs. Laurel L. Wall, 210 N. May St., Aurora, Ill., has been selected for technical training at Corry Field, Fla., in the Air Force communications analysis field.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., and studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Wall is a 1977 graduate of Rosary High School. Her grandfather, Virgil P. Wall Sr., resides at 918 Grand Ave., Madison.

Armed with an MBA degree from SIUE, Gallier is confident he can not only switch careers at equal pay, but continue to advance in his new profession.

As for the field he has chosen, Gallier said, "Engineering is not convenient. The MBA program is."

The lifelong learning philosophy, which encourages people to drop in and out of education as the spirit dictates, is not a new idea for Gallier. "I have always felt that my education would continue all of my life," he said.

The civilian worker at the military base feels that people cannot have too much education. "The more education people have, the more flexible they are. They can move from one career field to another and adjust with the changing market," Gallier said. Capt. Blazen feels much the same way. In the Military service 10 years, Blazen is now on the base and new in the University's MBA program.

Blazen has an undergraduate degree in chemistry from the University of Puget Sound, but he feels he cannot build upon that degree. It wouldn't be convenient. He, too, has enrolled in the MBA program. The marriage of a technical degree with a business degree is "a very marketable combination," according to Blazen. "I cannot get an advanced chemical degree without leaving the service," he said. Most coursework for advanced science degrees is offered during the day when the serviceman is not free and extra time is necessary for time in the laboratory. Time is a scarce commodity in Blazen's life. The weekend format of the MBA program is especially attractive to Capt. Blazen. Courses offered in the weekend format meet on two weekends spaced three weeks apart, with sessions meeting on Friday night and all day Saturday and Sunday. Three weeks of intense preparation are necessary before the first class meets, and another three weeks of preparation is necessary before the next meeting. A great deal of self-discipline and reading are required. Putting the responsibility for learning on the student doesn't bother Blazen one bit. "We are in an era of changing views on higher education. The weekend format fits right into my own lifestyle," he said. During the years he has been in the service, Blazen has been stationed at various bases around the country, including the west, southeast and mid-west. All the bases have been equipped with education programs.

Blazen feels that men and women in military service have greatly benefited by the programs. "They have something for everybody," he said. Blazen thinks many college programs are set up on military bases merely for the convenience of the colleges and universities, but he doesn't have that feeling about SIUE. The Air Force officer is pleased he doesn't have to travel to the University campus to attend classes and that the campus is coming to him. "SIUE is willing to take the classrooms to the people who want and need them," Blazen said.

Credit Union League to dedicate new quarters

The Illinois Credit Union League, a professional trade association serving more than 1,400 member credit unions throughout the state, will dedicate its new headquarters at 2011 Swift Drive in Oak Brook July 15, League President Richard L. Ensweller has announced.

Up to 2,000 credit union officials, their families, special guests and dignitaries are expected to attend the ceremonies and an open house scheduled for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The official dedication ceremonies will begin at 12:45 p.m. with a 15-minute concert featuring the Glenbard West High School Band, followed by presentation of colors and a flag-raising ceremony.

Featured speaker will be the Honorable William A. Redmond, speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives. Other participants will include Harold T. (Tom) Welsh, ICUL chairman of the board, and manager, General Foods Employees Credit Union, Kankakee; Glen Pickens, chairman, ICUL Building Committee, and treasurer, University of Illinois Employees Credit Union, Champaign, and Ensweller.

In addition to tours of the building and refreshments, a supervised playground for children will be available. To further celebrate the occasion, the league is sponsoring "Credit Union Day at Wrigley Field" on Sunday, July 16, when the Chicago Cubs entertain the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Illinois Credit Union League, with a current staff of 60, was located in its own building in Bensenville from 1960 until two weeks ago when it moved into the Oak Brook headquarters. The building, purchased earlier this year from A. E. Staley, was remodeled to meet the immediate needs of the league staff.

Ensweller said the building is easily expanded to meet future demands. "We are confident," Ensweller said, "that credit unions will continue to grow and we're very pleased to be in a position of growing along with them to serve their needs in every way possible."

May steel production highest in 3 1/2 years

Domestic raw steel production reached its highest monthly level in more than three and a half years in May, according to new American Iron and Steel Institute figures.

Mills in this country poured 12,320,000 tons of steel during the month. This was the highest single-month total since the 12,617,000 tons produced in October 1974. May traditionally is a month of high steel production. In May 1977, production was 12,210,000.

Through the first five months of this year, raw steel production had reached 54,876,000 tons. This was an increase of 2,511,000 tons from the 52,365,000 tons poured during the same period of 1977.

The steel industry's capability utilization rate in May was 91.5 percent. The capability utilization rate, however, in the first five months of this year was 94.2 percent.

Of May's total output, 7,431,000 tons came from basic oxygen furnaces, 2,895,000 tons from electric furnaces, and 1,995,000 tons from open hearths.

Through the first five months of this year, B-O-F's had made 32,702,000 tons of raw steel, while electric furnaces had poured 13,323,000 tons, and open hearths, the remaining 8,851,000 tons.

During May, 1,745,000 tons of raw steel were strand or pressure cast (produced through continuous casting processes), bringing the total for the first five months of the year to 7,750,000 tons.

Insurance problems resolved

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)

We have many calls about insurance companies, insurance benefits for seniors and various insurance problems. We try to resolve each individual case without giving any preference to one insurance company over another. In fact, we have received many inquiries recently about the health insurance renewal for all retired state employees and survivors of former state employees.

Q. I was out of town when the renewal forms were mailed to all retirees for re-enrollment in the State Insurance Plan, which is covered by the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Program. Therefore, my signed forms did not reach the Retirement System Office until after the deadline date of June 15, 1978. I am very anxious to know if the retirement system is giving special consideration in such cases as mine?

A. The open enrollment and re-enrollment period was officially announced to run from May 16, 1978, through June 15, 1978. However, the retirement system is still accepting applications, because of many cases like yours. They are having to return many forms for signatures, corrections, etc. Also, telephone calls on some cases are being made to clarify information given. Do not worry about any loss of coverage, due to the late filing of your application.

Q. Should I have made an explanation as to the reason for filing my renewal form late?

A. An explanation and/or legitimate reason for late filing would be advisable. If this was not done, you should do so now and mail it to the State Employees Retirement System, 1201 South Fifth Street, Springfield, IL 62706.

Q. I understand we are entitled to a new Medicare coordination plan in place of the old "carved-out plan." Please explain.

A. Effective July 1, 1978, many changes went into effect. I will mention one which affects all seniors who are enrolled in Medicare's Part A (Hospital Part); Effective July 1, 1978, the State Plan will coordinate its benefits with benefits provided by Medicare, and a member, who is enrolled in Medicare's Part A (Hospital) will have the $144 Medicare deductible paid in full by the state plan.

Q. When will we receive information on these changes?

A. A book, which will answer all of your questions about the state plan, effective July 1, 1978, is being compiled and should be in the hands of each insured person within a short time.

Q. How can I contact the State Insurance Office by telephone?

A. You may call the State Department of Personnel, Group Insurance Division at (217) 782-2548. Also, feel free to call the State Retirement System at (217) 782-3228.

'Sounds of Joy' in concert here

A gospel musical group known as "Sounds of Joy" from Arkansas will present a program at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, July 16, at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., according to the Rev. Al Slayter.

The group will also be in concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the church.

Rev. Slayter added, "In concert, the Sounds of Joy do not try to impress with a blasting volume or flashy performance. They simply come on stage singing tunes such as 'Jesus the Carpenter' and 'New Day Comin'," which have a powerful message.

PRIOR TO ARREST. Police Sgt. James Lengyel talks with the Rev. Edwin F. Arentsen prior to arresting him after the priest repeatedly refused to leave the private parking lot of the Hope Clinic for Women, 1602 Twenty-first St., last week. Also arrested with the priest were three women protesters. They are Pamela York and Teresa Alexander of Granite City and Helen Roling of Madison. All four were charged with criminal trespass to property and all four pleaded innocent.

PARKING LOT CONFRONTATION between Joan Henneberry, an employee of the Hope Clinic for Women, 1602 Twenty-first St., and the Reverend Edwin F. Arentsen prior to the priest's arrest last week along with three women protesters. The four allegedly refused to leave the private parking lot of the clinic. Police arrested the four on charges of criminal trespass to property. The three women with the priest were Pamela York and Teresa Alexander, both of Granite City, and Helen Roling of Madison. All pleaded innocent to the charge and will face a trial.

$107 million spent in Illinois last year for U.S. foreign aid

The federal government purchased more than $107 million in goods, services and agricultural products in Illinois last year for the U.S. foreign aid program, according to a study by the Agency for International Development.

The commodities and services are used to help stimulate economic growth in less developed countries, many of which supply raw material for U.S. manufacturing and also are export markets for U.S. products.

Of the total, $60,807,000 went to Illinois farmers and food processors for grain and other agricultural products for developing countries under the Food for Peace Program.

The balance $46,976,109 went to Illinois manufacturers and other firms for goods and commodities used in overseas economic development programs administered by AID. Food for Peace is jointly administered by AID and the Department of Agriculture.

Purchases for overseas shipments included expenditure of $1,469,674 with Granite City Steel.

The multinational development institutions supported by the United States, such as the World Bank, also purchase goods and services in the United States. But accurate statistics are not available.

In addition to humanitarian reasons, the United States supports a foreign aid program to combat problems in less developed countries that do or could influence the peace, security and well-being of the U.S.

Among these Third World problems are massive hunger that causes political upheaval, skyrocketing population growth that nullifies economic gains, lack of job opportunities that triggers migration to affluent countries, depletion of natural resources like fresh water and arable land, and environmental degradation.

Since 1969, the first year that detailed records were kept, AID has spent $452,550,462 in Illinois for goods and services for use in the foreign aid program.

According to the AID survey, contracts for technical services totaling $17,707,377 were in effect in Illinois last Sept. 30 when fiscal 1977 ended.

The contracts were with universities and individual experts for research or supervision of field projects to combat disease, hunger, illiteracy and over-population.

Alton pounces on Tri-City, 5-1; throws division race into tie

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Two games were split by Tri-City Post 113 this week. The 113's beat Glen Carbon on Mondays 2-0 in a six inning game (darkness) and lost to Alton yesterday 5-1. Tri-City led Alton after the second but lost it in the fourth and fifth.

Last night's game was the second one this season Tri-City has lost to Alton. It dropped Tri-City into a first place tie with Alton in the North Division of District 22. Each club has a 10-4 record in league play.

ALTON TRI-CITY 1
Jeff Tretter, still not fully recovered from his no hitter against Collinsville last week, threw yesterday against the team that was directly behind Tri-City in standings. Tretter pitched just over four innings when he was replaced by Al Yount in the fifth with two on. Yount threw until the middle of the sixth where Mike DeGonia relieved for three outs. With two out in the seventh, John Vrenick finished up for Tri-City. All five runs were charged to Tretter as well as two errors.

Tri-City took the lead in the second when Bob Stegemeier singled up the middle and scored later on two wild pitches. That was the only run Tri-City had for the night.

Tri-City left a total of five men on base compared to the four of Alton. Tri-City had four errors to one of Alton's. Alton possessed seven hits whereas Tri-City got only five.

TRI-CITY 2 GLEN CARBON 0
Only six innings were played because of darkness on Diamond 1 in Granite City's Wilson Park where Tri-City was the guest of Glen Carbon. Bunting first and pitching last didn't effect Tri-City's performances.

Legion Post 113 scored one in the first inning and one in the fourth to shut out Glen Carbon 2-0.

Tom Hennrich walked and stole second to start things rolling for the local Legion machine in the top of the first inning. Keith Champion with a triple batted in Hennrich to give Tri-City the only run it needed. Just to be sure, Tri-City added a second run in the fourth as John Krekovich got on by an outfield error followed by a stolen second base. Jim Thurman singled him to assure the game.

Tim Kirksey picked up his third win of the season as he struck out six batters and walked only two. He pitched the full six innings and allowed only two hits. Kirksey is now 3-0 in league ball.

"We didn't have any hitting either night but we came out OK," commented Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion of Tri-City. "We made some nice plays and we learned some things. Our relief pitching was great ... super — Alton pitched a nice ball game at us and we just didn't win."

Frontier crafts, farm tasks to feature Rockome Gardens events

The 10th annual horse farming days at Rockome Gardens, Arcola, Ill., will be held this year on Sept. 22, 23, 24, 29 and 30, and Oct. 1, 6, 7, 8, and 31, and will feature demonstrations of old-fashioned farm tasks and Illinois frontier crafts.

Daily events will include threshing with steam engines and teams of horses, gang plowing and discing with a team of six Belgian horses, sulky plowing with a team of three, silage cutting and grinding corn with horse power.

Craftsmen from Illinois and Indiana will demonstrate such crafts as blacksmithing and harness making, pottery making, chair caning, quilting, candlemaking, rug weaving, glass blowing and others. Also available will be homemade cornbread and beans, apple butter, biscuits and sausage gravy and apple fritters.

Historically, original construction of the rock and flower gardens was started in 1939 as a hobby of Arthur H. Yoder, dustriatist Arthur Martin. During the depression, when the WPA and the CCC were in full operation, Martin used his employees to beautify his estate rather than turning them out to the welfare rolls.

Martin transported tons of native Illinois rocks (as well as some from surrounding states) to the grounds where his employees broke them manually and laid them in cement to form the scroll and wagonwheel fencing, garden borders, flower pots and specialties, such as the giant heart in the center of the gardens.

The rock and flower gardens alone comprise approximately three acres of the 10 acre grounds. Flowers and plants of all varieties — from petunias to pineapples — can be found in the beds with special gardens (the cactus and fern gardens and the lily ponds) scattered throughout.

Purchased in 1939 by former Amishman Elva Yoder, Rockome Gardens has been transformed from a hobby into a major attraction. With the addition of the Rock Shop, Antique Museum, Grist Mill, Broom Shack, Amish Home and Old Bagdad Town, Rockome now offers more for the "frontier curious."

Native stones and gems are cut and polished at the Rock Shop and antiques of all kinds and eras can be seen in actual setting style in the museum. Fresh corn meal is ground daily at the grist mill and brooms are wound by hand at the shack.

The Amish Home is the former Yoder home that has been refurnished to resemble the setting of an actual Amish household.

Old Bagdad Town is a reconstruction of a town that once flourished on the banks of the Kaskaskia River before the railroad was built through Arcola. Bagdad offers a genuine look at frontier Illinois as one strolls through the shops and old schoolhouse.

Handmade items only can be found at the Calico Shop while common merchandise is available at the General Store.

Next door to the candle shop where visitors can dip their own candles, fresh bread, cookies and rolls are baked daily at the Bagdad Bakery. Down the street, a familiar ring of hammer and anvil comes from the blacksmith shop while next door, the harness maker is busy at work.

Children of all ages enjoy feeding the goats and deer, the 35-foot-high treehouse, Three Bears House, Miniature Bottle Houses and everyone enjoys the Haunted Barn and the train and horse and buggy rides.

Handicrafts and special events highlight each weekend at Rockome Gardens. Wood carving, chair caning, flax breaking and spinning, rug hooking, hand weaving and other crafts are just a few of the crafts demonstrated.

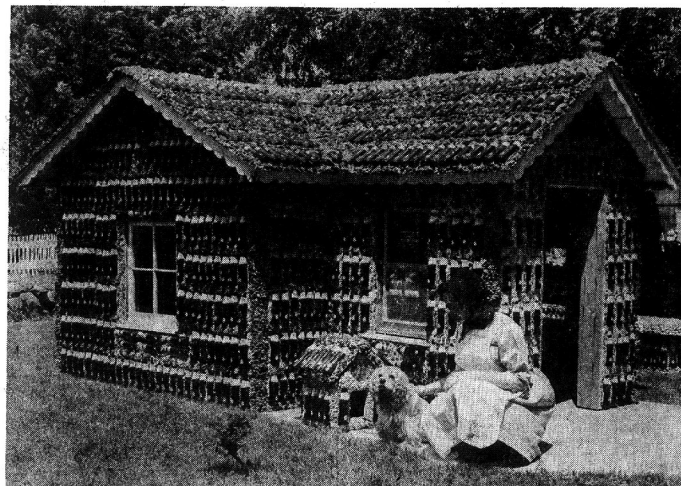

Special events include raisinplaiting days, the antique auto show, quilt show, mid-summer music festivals (featuring country-western, blue grass, old time fiddlers, gospel and German), Children's days and horse farming days. Activities also are held in conjunction with the broom corn festival in nearby Arcola. The Rockome family style restaurant serves Amish cooking the homestyle way. The complete dinner is brought to the table on platters. Guests then serve themselves. Continual favorites include fried chicken, homemade bread and apple butter, Dutch apple pie and shoofly pie.

Also in the area are the Dutch Kitchen and Rockome Store in Arcola and the Calico Workshop in Arthur.

Amish cooking also is featured at the Dutch kitchen as well as plate dinners. The Rockome store is set up as an old general store and also has fresh Amish cheese. The Calico Workshop in Arthur features a variety of handmade items ranging from eyeglass holders to quilts.

Rockome Gardens is located five miles west of Arcola, Ill. just off I-57.

BOTTLE AND ROCK HOUSE constructed as a unique tourist attraction at the Rockome Gardens in Arcola, Ill., which is in the heart of the Amish country. There also are three acres of rock and flower gardens, a Rock Shop, antique museum, grist mill, broom shack, an Amish home and many other shops. Demonstrations of old fashioned farm tasks and Illinois frontier crafts will highlight the 10th annual Horse Farming Days scheduled for Sept. 22, 23, 24, 29 and 30, and Oct. 1, 6, 7, 8, and 31.

Fellowships for urban studies

Students enrolling this fall in the Master of Science in Urban Studies Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will have the opportunity to compete for three public service fellowships, according to Michael Quinn, acting director of the program.

For the second year, a fellowship grant totaling $23,400 was awarded to SIUE by the U.S. Office of Education. Each fellowship carries a monthly stipend of $325 in addition to an allowance for tuition and fees. Duration of the fellowship is from Sept. 1, 1978, until Aug. 31, 1979.

Quinn said that the urban studies program is designed for students who are interested in pursuing public service careers, and the fellowships will be awarded to students demonstrating exceptional potential for these careers. In the program, students work on actual problems posed by professional clients who work in public service agencies.

Mark L. Drucker, assistant professor in the program, said, "The students have a chance to use the methods we teach in class and apply them to 'real' world situations."

Quinn explained, "The Master of Science in Urban Studies offers an interdisciplinary curriculum designed to prepare students for a variety of urban careers which require proficiency in policy analysis techniques and a broad understanding of urban areas and their problems."

He continued, "The program is suited for persons currently employed in urban-related public service occupations, as well as for those who require graduate training to qualify for entry-level positions in numerous fields, including urban management, policy planning and community development, among others."

During the past year, urban studies interns have worked with the Intergovernmental Grants Department, St. Clair County, the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development; the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission; the Office of the President of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen; and other agencies.

"Students review the contributions which the social sciences have made to the study of urban phenomena in team-teaching seminars. At the same time, students working in small groups in the Urban Problems Laboratories learn the decision-making methods of urban policy analysis by applying these methods," Quinn stated.

Problems that the urban studies students have undertaken over the past year include evaluation of the operations of a well-child clinic in Alton for the Family Services and Visiting Nurses Association and the design of new policies to regulate street peddlers in the City of St. Louis for Lawrence Woodson, license collector.

Drucker said some of the students' recommendations were subsequently enacted into law by the Board of Aldermen. He also developed nursing home strategies for the Illinois Department on Aging and the Missouri Department of Social Services.

Persons interested in the urban studies program and its objectives, and those interested in obtaining a fellowship, may contact Michael Quinn, Urban Studies Program, Classroom Building III, Room 302, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill., 62036, or call (618) 692-2762, by Aug. 1.

423 PEOPLE HAVE BEEN PARALYZED AND 23 PEOPLE HAVE DIED BECAUSE OF YOUR SWINE FLU FIASCO. WHAT DO YOU HAVE TO SAY ABOUT THAT?

The sounds of summer . . .

Sampling the summer sounds of '78:
DARYL HALL - JOHN OATES - Livetime (RCA) — This classy duo fashions exquisite harmonies and musical subtleties in the studio — but this LP is LIVE and all the roughness and excitement of a live performance come crashing through. The LP was recorded on tour and is highlighted by an eight-minute delight called "Sara Smile."

THE SPINNERS - Best Of (Atlantic) — A super release by a veteran group that has a broad range of appeal, from pop to soul to disco. Spinner hits on this LP include "I'll Be Around," "A Mighty Love," "Then Came You" and "Ghetto Child."

SERGIO MENDES - Brazil 88 (Elektra) — Another fine blend of American and Brazilian music by Sergio who started out as the teen leader of a jazz group in Rio de Janeiro. Mendes brought bossa nova to this country in the 1960s, but since has merged his music with American pop and blues.

NORMAN CONNORS - This Is Your Life (Arista) — The vocal work of Connors and Eleanor Mills turns this one into a masterpiece of soulful jazz. A graduate of Juilliard in composition and percussion, Connors is a musical magician when it comes to putting the right talent together with the right words and music.

Overnight success — but it took 8 years

Q. Now that comic Steve Martin is famous, please settle a dispute. Wasn't Martin a regular on the Ray Stevens Show a couple of summers ago? — K.H.
A. You are correct. The short summer replacement series subbed for Andy Williams on NBC in 1970. Martin was a regular along with Dick Curtis, Carol Robinson, Florian Carr, Billy Van, Cass Elliott and Lulu.

PHONY NUMBERS

THIS IS A CODED WORD GAME IN WHICH THE TELEPHONE IS INSTRUMENTAL IN CONVERTING NUMBERS TO LETTERS. SINCE EACH NUMBER ON THE DIAL STANDS FOR THREE LETTERS, IT IS USUALLY POSSIBLE TO SPELL TWO OR MORE WORDS FROM ANY GIVEN SEQUENCE. HOWEVER, THE "S" WORDS WE ARE LOOKING FOR ARE ALL RELATED BY THE FOLLOWING CATEGORY.

Some take the money and run

Take the money and run seems to be the new game some of the stars are playing. JULIE ANDREWS was the first to make a "bundle" here in the United States and take the money with her back to England.

Now "Three's Company" star, SUZANNE SOMERS, who's making terrific money with all of her guest appearances plus her big salary on the TV series, is investing her money across the border. Recently she married Canadian talk-show host ALAN HAMILL, who flies back and forth not only to do his show, but also to invest her money in real estate.

BURT REYNOLDS at least believes in "Uncle Sam." He may make his money in Hollywood but he's investing it in Florida. He owns a number of hotels and a shopping center. And, in Atlanta, Ga., Burt owns a restaurant. Obviously, DINAH made a Southern boy out of him.

LOCK STEPS

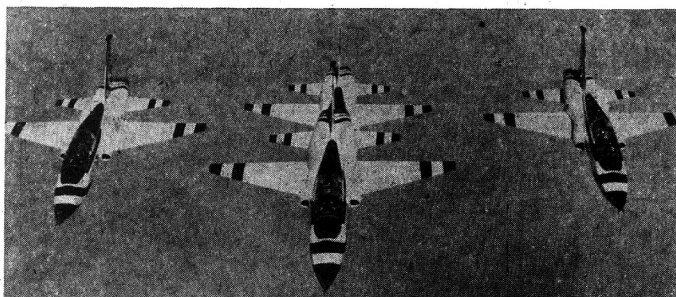

Dams can make otherwise impassable rivers navigable by providing controlled pools for adequate water depth. A typical waterway can be likened to a staircase, as a succession of pools results in varying elevations along the way. Locks adjust dams to allow watercraft to be raised or lowered from pool to pool.

Beer bread

3 cups soft-flour flour
3 tbsp. sugar
1 12-oz. can beer
Grease loaf pan. Put ingredients in pan and mix till blended. Bake at 350° for 70 minutes. Brush with egg whites 15 minutes before done (optional).

Sequel equals a pay raise

On the subject of salaries, MARK HAMILL, you all remember him from "Star Wars," demanded and got $250,000 to star in the sequel of the all-time box-office bonanza. Mark sure can't complain — it's 10 times the amount he received for his first go-around in the flick.

Seek comments on training needs in field of aging

The Illinois Department on Aging is requesting public comment regarding the training needs of persons throughout Illinois in the field of aging.

David B. Monson, acting director, said effective training to meet the changing needs of Illinois' older population is critical to the enhancement of all services.

Public input regarding local training needs will be utilized in preparation of the department's annual training plan funded under Title IV-A of the Older Americans Act. Monson said Illinois' allocation for Fiscal Year 1979 is $294,606.

All comments should be submitted in writing and received by the department no later than July 17. Letters should be addressed to the Training Office, Illinois Department on Aging, 421 East Capital, Springfield, Ill., 62706.

Thunderbirds to feature open house at Scott AFB

Flying and open houses have long been traditional at Scott Air Force Base.

To give local area citizens the opportunity to visit with the military forces, Scott AFB hosted over 50,000 persons for its first open house just one year after the base's opening in July 1977.

Things have changed in 60 years, from wire and wood biplanes to supersonic jets, but the concept of open house is still the same and plans for the 1978 Scott AFB Open House are now under way.

Air show project officer Colonel E. Wayne McLamb, announced that this year's open house will be held on Sunday, Aug. 6. The gates will open to the general public at 10 a.m. Special events for the day will feature the U.S. Air Force jet aircraft demonstration team, the Thunderbirds, performing precision maneuvers at 3:30 p.m.

During the 1978 show season, the Thunderbirds celebrate their 25th birthday — a quarter century of displaying the maneuvers of precision aerobatics.

Throughout the day visitors on the base will be able to observe and board military aircraft. Among the aircraft to be displayed will be the C-9 Nightingale hospital aircraft and the world's largest airplane, the C-5 Galaxy.

Special booths manned by military people will be set up to answer questions and provide information about the duties, operations and responsibilities of the various branches of the armed services.

Among those setting up booths will be the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service, Air Force and Army recruiting services and the USAF Environmental Tactical Applications Center. To cool the day and satisfy the appetite, refreshment booths will be conveniently located throughout the area.

Other activities will include

Arrest 2 men at fight scene

Responding to a call that two men were fighting, three police officers allegedly found the pair in the street during the weekend, between the 3800 and 3700 blocks of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Both had sustained abrasions and were arrested on charges of fighting, police said.

Booked at headquarters were Bobby R. Hudson, 36, of 3701 Kirkpatrick Homes, who was released on payment of $35 cash bond, and Robert D. Bates, 26, of 2612 Kirkpatrick Homes, who also was released on $35 cash bond.

demonstrations by the Air Force's security police working dogs, radio controlled model aircraft flights, performances by the U.S. Air Force Band of Mid-America and performances by the Galaxy Twirlers square dance group. Golden Rain tree has rare qualities

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Adviser, Horticulture
If you see a small ornamental tree decorated with bouquets of bright yellow flowers in July, it's Golden Rain Tree.

because of the mid-summer season as well as the yellow color.
The irregular or gnarled character of the limbs provide a "high-interest" quality during the winter season. In late summer the Golden Rain Tree produces light brown bladder-like pods that decorate the tree during the fall and winter.

If you have a spot for a small tree that eventually becomes 30 feet tall and produces yellow flowers in July, consider buying a Golden Rain Tree (Koelreuteria paniculata). They are available in local nurseries and are completely hardy in the St. Louis area. Be sure to plant in a full-sun location.

Most landscape evergreens need annual pruning to maintain balance between plants and a reasonable size relationship with your home.

The best time to prune to maintain form in landscape evergreens is June or early July. The worst time is in August. Late June is ideal because evergreens have made their spring growth.

Modest pruning will maintain the beauty of the new growth while you maintain balance between plants. Late season growth after pruning should be left to create a natural appearance during the rest of the year.

August pruning creates the chance of sunburning of the exposed twigs and needles as well as late season growth and winter damage.

If major remodeling of your evergreens is necessary, make major pruning cuts in late March and early April. Plan on modest pruning in June to maintain shape and capture the full beauty of your evergreens for the rest of the year.

High school graduates and those with some college training are being offered an opportunity to follow a career in respiratory therapy in a two-year educational program at Missouri Baptist Hospital.

Grant certificate of need for care center

A key step toward construction of a nursing care center at the Apartment Community at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows was accomplished during the weekend. The Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board approved the application and granted the apartment community a certificate of need.

Construction of a 45-bed Dammert Geriatric Center is scheduled to begin in mid-August.

Fr. William Clark, administrator, said three steps must be accomplished before construction can begin:

1. Final review and approval of the plans and specifications

2. Final bidding by subcontractors and final proposal by the general contractor related to price and contract for construction.

3. Reevaluation of financial data presented to the state board.

The geriatric center will be a one story, 21,000 square foot addition to the north wing of the apartment community.

Deaths, injuries in skateboard mishaps

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

The "space walk," the "fake," "shoot the duck," the "dances" Yo-yo tricks? Musical groups? C.B. terms? None of the above.

They are maneuvers in one of the most popular recreational activities of this decade — skateboarding.

Unfortunately, however, the number of skateboard-related deaths and injuries has risen just as dramatically as has the popularity of skateboarding.

During the 30-month period from February 1975 through July 1977, 25 skateboard-related deaths were reported in the United States.

The victims either fell from the skateboards and struck their heads, or were struck by automobiles while riding skateboards. Most of them were between the ages of 10 and 17 years.

Of the numerous skateboard-related injuries reported, fractures of the arm, leg and other body parts were the most common. (In-depth investigations show that, in case after case, victims who were falling extended their arms to break their falls — with fractured lower arms the result.)

One-third of the victims had been skating for less than one week. One out of every three accidents occurred when skateboarders struck irregularities in the riding surface.

Only one to two percent of the injuries could be attributed to the skateboard itself — a wheel coming off, the board breaking or cracking or other skateboard defect.

According to the Illinois Department of Public Health, skateboard-related deaths and injuries could be reduced if riders wore helmets and if skateboards were used primarily in controlled environments specifically intended for skateboarding — not on public streets and sidewalks.

Skateboards have evolved from simple planks equipped with wheels to sophisticated devices used in professional competition. They range in size from 24 inches to seven feet long. Some are motorized — some have sails — some even have blades intended for use on ice. They are made of wood, aluminum, plastic or fiberglass, and cost anywhere between $10 and $300.

And, although the majority of skateboarders are between 10 and 17 years of age, kids of all ages as well as some adults are skateboarders.

But, remember — no matter your age or the sophistication of your skateboard — to help avoid serious injury (or even death), wear a helmet when skateboarding, and do not ride your skateboard in the street or on the sidewalk.

If you want more information about skateboard safety, write to: Illinois Department of Public Health, Product Safety Program, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

Soybeans get 'double burn'

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Farm Adviser

Young soybeans are getting burned twice this year. The first burn is by the hot dry weather and the second may be by some herbicide.

The hot weather is forcing soybean plants to pump a lot of water through their systems. Unfortunately, many also are taking up herbicides.

Beans under moisture stress are subject to injury from soil applied herbicides like Sencor, Loxone, Lorox or Maloran or from Atrazine carryover or from postemergence herbicides like Basagran, Dyanap or Preemerg.

Don't push the panic button and rush out to replant injured soybeans. Instead, check terminal and lateral buds to see if they are still alive. Soybeans often will make lateral shoots when the terminal bud has been damaged.

If the shoot buds are still alive and there is a healthy root system, do not replant. The soybean plant has a great ability to tolerate herbicide injury.

Mark the date of Sunday, July 30, on your calendar. Here is an opportunity for you and your family to take a Sunday drive. The family will enjoy attending the annual Trial Garden Open House for home gardeners. The open house will be Sunday, July 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The garden is located on the University of Illinois campus at Urbana. Visitors can come and go at their leisure.

The trial garden has over 1,300 varieties of flowering annuals and bedding plants. Gardeners will have a chance to see the "All American Selections" for 1979 and 1979. The Urbana garden is one of the locations used in determining the "All American Selections" in annual flowers.

African swine fever has invaded the Western Hemisphere for the second time in recent years. The outbreak was diagnosed in the country of Brazil. This disease is one of the most destructive and contagious to swine.

Leroy Biehl, University of Illinois swine veterinarian, says even though the disease has not been diagnosed in the United States, swine producers should be aware of the existence and devastating effects of the disease.

African swine fever is a highly contagious viral disease. Despite years of research, efforts to produce a vaccine have failed.

Disease symptoms include high fever, red blotches on the skin, internal bleeding and collapse.

African swine fever has plagued eastern and southern Africa. The disease spread to Portugal in 1957, Spain in 1960 and Cuba in 1971. Tight restrictions are placed on importation of pork from countries affected by the disease to prevent its spread.

Most farmers are aware that the soybean cyst nematode can be a problem in soybeans, but few realize that corn also can be attacked by a nematode. While there are some similarities, the corn and soybean cyst nematodes are two different pests.

Nematodes on corn have not been a problem in Madison County. However, area farmers need to be aware that the problem does exist in areas of the state.

A nematode is a small round worm that feeds on roots and wounds a plant with its feeding spear. This damages the cells and provides an avenue for bacteria and fungi to enter the plant and break down the roots.

The symptoms to look for include stunting of the corn plant and apparent nutrient deficiency when the fertility in a field is high.

There are about a half dozen nematode species which feed on corn in Illinois. Producers do have some control measures. Crop rotation is one.

Full moldboard plowing is another. Chemicals are another method, but should only be used when nematodes are a confirmed problem.

If producers see symptoms of corn nematode damage, they should contact their local extension office.

How to keep cool

By LARRY D. LAPPIN
Assistant Farm Adviser

With double digit inflation becoming more prevalent here in the United States we must all do our share to help conserve our nation's limited energy resources. Each individual can try to hold your energy use to a reasonable level.

In order to make energy conservation work energy use awareness must be increased, energy conservation methods learned, and implementation of these methods must begin with each one of us.

This will be just 19 ways to save energy. There will be more to follow in coming weeks. But for now a topic that is on everyone's mind these days is "Keeping Cool."

1. Choose the proper size air conditioner for your needs.

2. Compare units energy efficiency ratios (EER) the higher, the better.

3. Locate on shady side of house, away from shrubs, dryer vent.

4. Don't block air circulation with furniture or drapes.

5. Clean air conditioner filter regularly.

6. Don't run window fan when unit is on.

7. With central air, set thermostat around 78 degrees.

8. Keep the sun, light fixtures and heat-producing appliances away from your thermostat.

9. Cook in self-heating appliances.

10. Use kitchen-bathroom exhaust fans to reduce humidity.

11. Turn off heat-producing gadgets when not used.

12. Close shades on sunny side of house.

13. Make sure insulation, especially in ceiling, is adequate.

14. Install a power attic ventilator.

15. Run an attic vent fan on cooler days and nights.

16. Choose a light-colored roof to reflect sunlight.

17. Plant shade trees on south and west sides of house.

18. Install window awnings to block afternoon sun.

19. Vent clothes dryer to outside.

For more information Quad-Cityans may contact the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Office at 900 Hillsboro, Box 427, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.
